00:45:14 Wendy, Arlington Neighborhood Village: were the workshops in person or Zoom? and can you talk more about the facilitators?

00:52:51 Judy Berman (she/her) CHV Staff: how do you manage groups if there's large disparities in resources available? or do you group according to socio-economic status?

00:54:42 Wendy, Arlington Neighborhood Village: Are you saying that your facilitators had training and previous career skills that lent themselves to this effort?

00:55:24 Holly Pollinger: I am in Washington DC with Glover Park Village. How do we go about offering this to our members?

00:56:54 Judy Berman (she/her) CHV Staff: Is there a target "life stage" for this? i.e. Should we be looking for people who have retired or haven't yet retired? Before Medicare eligibility or after?

00:57:57 Judy Berman (she/her) CHV Staff: We have had experience grouping "solo agers" together for similar activities, since they have concerns in common

01:26:52 Kate McGrail, Suburban Hospital: Thank you Margan and Bob for sharing this informative and necessary topic with real-world examples on making it work for individuals and families. I particularly thought it was helpful to be reminded to normalize the conversation. In light of feeling comfortable with difficult conversations and scenarios, I wanted to share an upcoming conversation on The Benefits of Palliative Care, this Sunday, October 16 at 4p. Hosted by the Aging Well Special Interest Group of Bethesda Metro Area Village, it features Dr. Steven Wilks, Hospice and Palliative Care Specialist at Suburban. This event is open to all - regardless of village membership or zip code. 01:31:38 Kate McGrail, Suburban Hospital: Montgomery County Villages, stay tuned for an RFP from Suburban this month. If this training is a pathway your village is ready to take on and funding is barrier, please consider applying
